Visiting Speaker
ISU Landscape Architecture Graduate:

Brian Clark

Wednesday, February 12, 4:30 p.m.
Morrill Hall 2nd Fl. Auditorium

Brian is Senior Principal at Confluence, a multi-disciplinary design firm with offices in Des Moines, Iowa City, Sioux Falls, SD, Kansas City, MO, and Minneapolis, MN. Brian received his BLA from Iowa State University, where he has been an adjunct professor, visiting critic and lecturer on subjects of design, marketing and professional practice. Brian brings a vision to each project he oversees as well as to the firm at large. With a diverse 25-year background in landscape architecture, land planning and urban design, Brian carries licenses in Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska and Minnesota and is CLARB certified. As an award-winning landscape architect with a strong design background, Brian was the first landscape architect to be appointed to the City of Des Moines Urban Design Review Board where he has served as chairman. He also sits on the Salisbury House Board. In 2007, Brian was the 46th winner of the Iowa State University College of Design's Design Achievement Award, recognizing outstanding mid-career creative and professional achievements of alumni in the fields of architecture, graphic design, interior design, community and regional planning, and landscape architecture.
